

USFCR ACADEMY

USFCR Academy is a federal procurement learning resource designed for contractors of all experience levels. Clients enrolled in this program have access to educational modules, live webinars, and focused training sessions with a federal contracting specialist. Training sessions are held in a virtual environment and are scheduled for accessibility throughout different U.S. time zones. Included with USFCR Academy is a forum where clients can find other businesses for teaming and subcontracting.

CONTRACTING CHALLENGES

Steep Learning Curve

Learning the proper procedures for government contracting can take months or even years.

Dynamic Sector

Rules for how to conduct business with the federal government are always changing with new policies.

Accessibility

Not all businesses can access publically available contracting education resources due to time or geographic constraints.

Limited Attention

Publically available contracting education resources are limited in how much one-on-one attention they can give to businesses.

INSIDE USFCR'S SOLUTION

By enrolling in USFCR Academy, businesses have access to a wide range of learning resources and a government contracting network.

BID TRAINING

Live virtual sessions held on a multiple timezone friendly schedule.

VIDEO MODULES

A video library of lessons for beginner and advanced learners.

LIVE WEBINARS

USFCR holds live webinars every week covering a specific topic.

SOLICITATION REVIEW

USFCR bid trainers assist you in interpreting government solicitations.

BID EVALUATION

Through USFCR Academy, businesses can have their bids evaluated before they submit them.

NETWORKING

USFCR Academy also serves as a virtual government contracting networking space.
